

News

• Peace Talks Between Russia and Ukraine Stop After Short Meeting

But the two sides failed to broker a temporary cease-fire or a meeting between their two leaders, a sign of how far apart they remain on ending the conflict.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Israeli Strikes Kill Dozens in Gaza, Health Ministry Says

Israel intensified its military campaign against Hamas, despite a U.S.-backed push for the two sides to agree a new cease-fire.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• At Mexico’s 2 Legal Gun Shops, a Conflicted View of Firearms Is on Display

While Mexicans have a right to own guns, they can only be legally bought at two military-run and tightly regulated stores, an effort to better control possession in a country awash with black market weapons.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Gunfire in Gaza as Israel Says Its Troops Are Mobilizing

The shots were heard in central Gaza early Saturday, hours after the Israeli military said its troops were preparing for a major advance into the territory.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Under Fire From Trump’s Tariffs, Ammo Makers in a Balkan Valley Hunker Down

Companies that make ammunition in the Bosnian city of Gorazde fear they may not survive the tariffs imposed on the goods that they send to their biggest market — the United States.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Ukrainian Man, Roman Lavrynovych, Appears in Court Over Fires at Keir Starmer’s Properties

Roman Lavrynovych, 21, was charged with committing arson at two properties and a car with connections to Prime Minister Keir Starmer.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Canada’s Wildfire Season Off to a Deadly Start

Two people were trapped and killed by a wildfire in a small town in Manitoba, where the provincial capital, Winnipeg, is wilting under a record-breaking heat wave.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Poland’s Election for President Is a Test of Unwinding Populism

The government is a centrist parliamentary coalition. To undo its predecessor’s democratic backsliding, it needs the presidency. The election starts next week.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Portugal’s Center-Right Takes an Election. But Is the Hard Right the Victor?

The Democratic Alliance cemented its position as the dominant power, but the Chega party, which has an anti-immigrant message, is seen as a powerful new force.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• In Eastern Europe, Centrists Hold Off 2 Nationalist Challenges

Presidential elections on Sunday in Romania and Poland halted, or at least slowed, hard-right breakthroughs that many liberals had feared. But discontent with mainstream parties lingers.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Trump Backs Off His Demand That Russia Declare a Cease-Fire in Ukraine

President Trump once vowed to broker peace between Russia and Ukraine in 24 hours. Now he says the two sides should work it out themselves.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Nicusor Dan Beats George Simion in Romana’s Presidential Election

Nicusor Dan, the mayor of Bucharest, defeated George Simion, a nationalist aligned with President Trump who had been seen as the front-runner.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Poland Election: Trzaskowski Wins Critical Vote for President

Rafal Trzaskowski, the Warsaw mayor, appeared to have won the first round of the election. Prime Minister Donald Tusk is hoping his eventual victory will help push through a liberal agenda.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Israel Says It Has Expanded Ground Operations in Gaza Amid Cease-Fire Talks

Israel aims to press Hamas into releasing hostages and ultimately to destroy the group, but says it will now also allow some aid to enter the enclave.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Russian Troops Are War-Weary, but Want to Conquer More of Ukraine

Many Russian soldiers say they would see a cease-fire along the current front lines as a failure, hinting at the nationalist discontent the Kremlin could face in accepting a cease-fire.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Firefox Patches 2 Zero-Days Exploited at Pwn2Own Berlin with $100K in Rewards

Mozilla has released security updates to address two critical security flaws in its Firefox browser that could be potentially exploited to access sensitive data or achieve code execution. The vulnerabilities, both of which were exploited as a zero-day at Pwn2Own Berlin, are listed below - CVE-2025-4918 - An out-of-bounds access vulnerability when resolving Promise objects that could allow an

Read more

Source: <https://feeds.feedburner.com/TheHackersNews>

• Trump Revenge Tour Targets Cyber Leaders, Elections

President Trump last week revoked security clearances for Chris Krebs, the former director of the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) who was fired by Trump after declaring the 2020 election the most secure in U.S. history. The White House memo, which also suspended clearances for other security professionals at Krebs’s employer SentinelOne, comes as CISA is facing huge funding and staffing cuts.

Read more

Source: <https://krebsonsecurity.com/feed/>

• How Father Bob Became Pope Leo

A résumé of deep religious education, frontline pastoral experience, parish management and Vatican governance — along with a nudge from Pope Francis — put Robert Prevost on the fast track.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Zelensky Meets With Pope Leo After Inaugural Mass

Ukraine’s president was among the dignitaries and world leaders in St. Peter’s Square. After the meeting, he thanked the Vatican for its willingness to serve as a venue for peace talks between Ukraine and Russia.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• Trump and Putin Say They Will Discuss Ukraine Peace Proposals on Monday

President Trump announced plans for the call after a Russian drone attack killed nine on a civilian bus in northeastern Ukraine.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>

• BianLian and RansomExx Exploit SAP NetWeaver Flaw to Deploy PipeMagic Trojan

At least two different cybercrime groups BianLian and RansomExx are said to have exploited a recently disclosed security flaw in SAP NetWeaver tracked as CVE-2025-31324, indicating that multiple threat actors are taking advantage of the bug. Cybersecurity firm ReliaQuest, in a new update published today, said it uncovered evidence suggesting involvement from the BianLian data extortion crew and

Read more

Source: <https://feeds.feedburner.com/TheHackersNews>

• Xinbi Telegram Market Tied to $8.4B in Crypto Crime, Romance Scams, North Korea Laundering

A Chinese-language, Telegram-based marketplace called Xinbi Guarantee has facilitated no less than $8.4 billion in transactions since 2022, making it the second major black market to be exposed after HuiOne Guarantee. According to a report published by blockchain analytics firm Elliptic, merchants on the marketplace have been found to peddle technology, personal data, and money laundering

Read more

Source: <https://feeds.feedburner.com/TheHackersNews>

• Moldovan Police Arrest Suspect in €4.5M Ransomware Attack on Dutch Research Agency

Moldovan law enforcement authorities have arrested a 45-year-old foreign man suspected of involvement in a series of ransomware attacks targeting Dutch companies in 2021. "He is wanted internationally for committing several cybercrimes (ransomware attacks, blackmail, and money laundering) against companies based in the Netherlands," officials said in a statement Monday. In conjunction with the

Read more

Source: <https://feeds.feedburner.com/TheHackersNews>

• Breachforums Boss to Pay $700k in Healthcare Breach

In what experts are calling a novel legal outcome, the 22-year-old former administrator of the cybercrime community Breachforums will forfeit nearly $700,000 to settle a civil lawsuit from a health insurance company whose customer data was posted for sale on the forum in 2023. Conor Brian Fitzpatrick, a.k.a. "Pompompurin," is slated for resentencing next month after pleading guilty to access device fraud and possession of child sexual abuse material (CSAM).

Read more

Source: <https://krebsonsecurity.com/feed/>

• Alleged ‘Scattered Spider’ Member Extradited to U.S.

A 23-year-old Scottish man thought to be a member of the prolific Scattered Spider cybercrime group was extradited last week from Spain to the United States, where he is facing charges of wire fraud, conspiracy and identity theft. U.S. prosecutors allege Tyler Robert Buchanan and co-conspirators hacked into dozens of companies in the United States and abroad, and that he personally controlled more than $26 million stolen from victims.

Read more

Source: <https://krebsonsecurity.com/feed/>

• China-based SMS Phishing Triad Pivots to Banks

China-based purveyors of SMS phishing kits are enjoying remarkable success converting phished payment card data into mobile wallets from Apple and Google. Until recently, the so-called "Smishing Triad" mainly impersonated toll road operators and shipping companies. But experts say these groups are now directly targeting customers of international financial institutions, while dramatically expanding their cybercrime infrastructure and support staff.

Read more

Source: <https://krebsonsecurity.com/feed/>

• Second Man Charged Over Fires at Properties Linked to Prime Minister Keir Starmer

The British police said they had charged a Romanian national, Stanislav Carpiuc, with conspiracy to commit arson. Fires struck two buildings and a car linked to Prime Minister Keir Starmer.

Read more

Source: <https://rss.nytimes.com/services/xml/rss/nyt/World.xml>